

BRIAN EATON

"A multi-genre artist"
—Bass Musician Magazine

"An amazing composer and artist"
—Duane Williams, WWOZ Jazz Radio

"A multi-talented, multi-instrumentalist with multi-tasking abilities"
—Illinois Entertainer

"Eaton defies easy classification"
—Maxazine

"A one-man band"
—O's Place Jazz Magazine

Grafting Americana grit with the ambitious intricacies of prog-rock and his signature "cowboy jazz" sound, Eaton translates ancient timber lessons into a high-stakes sonic ecosystem. Parable of the Trees, a sprawling, wooden-hewed epic, is both dense and refreshingly lawless—a boundary-blurring masterclass in instrumental storytelling.

ABOUT THE ARTIST:

Brian Eaton is a multi-instrumentalist, producer, and composer based in Portland, Oregon, known for his genre-defying music that challenges traditional categories. With his singular approach to blending diverse musical traditions—from jazz to rock to ethereal ambient landscapes—Eaton creates music that is as cinematic as it is technical. As a "sonic architect" and a true independent spirit, he writes, performs, produces, and engineers all of his music in his home studio, maintaining complete creative control to craft immersive listening experiences.
