ABOUT THE ARTIST

Brian Eaton is a multi-instrumentalist, producer, and composer based in Portland, Oregon, known for his genre-defying music that challenges traditional categories. With his singular approach to blending diverse musical traditions—from jazz to Americana to ethereal ambient landscapes—Eaton creates music that is as cinematic as it is technical. As a "sonic architect" and a true independent spirit, he writes, performs, produces, and engineers all of his music in his home studio, maintaining complete creative control to craft immersive listening experiences.

LISTEN ON SOUNDCLOUD

Eaton's Wilderness Works is a vast sonic audiophile-grade expedition through nature and time that defies easy categorization. Inspired by ancient biblical texts, Eaton delivers a masterful jazz fusion journey that explores celestial lights, changing seasons, and the profound passage of time. Through lyrical improvisation, Eaton single-handedly performs and produces a sprawling seven-track tapestry of prog, Americana, Latin, and his signature "cowboy jazz."
